Senate OKs Whopping Big Housing Plan

540,000 Low Rental Units Given Nod Over Ike's Smaller Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Democratic move toward construction of public housing at a rate almost four times as great as that President Eisenhower recommended has topped its first big hurdle.

As part of an omnibus bill to continue federal housing programs for another year, the Senate voted yesterday to authorize 135,000 low-rent public housing units in each of the next four years.

Eisenhower had asked authority for 35,000 units for each of the next two years. That is the number authorized this year.

Democrats had raised the figures in the Senate Banking Committee, and a move by Sen. Caphart (R-Ind.) to trim the program down to the size the President had asked lost 44-38, generally on party lines.

The bill also would permit the Public Housing Administration to carry over into the next fiscal year, starting July 1, some 20,000 units authorized for this year but not yet built.

THE FEDERAL government does not build public housing projects. It grants authority to meet the difference between the low rents.

Walter Haney New Saltcreek Superintendent

Walter Haney, principal of Scioto Township School for the past two years, has resigned to take over the post of Superintendent of Saltcreek Township School.

He will succeed Harold Strous, who retired after 20 years at Saltcreek School. No successor to Haney's job has been announced.

Haney, 35, had been at Scioto Township School for four years. Prior to becoming principal, he taught English, science and history for two years.

He is a native of Scioto County and attended school in South Webster, near Portsmouth. After spending four years in the U.S. Air Force, he attended Ohio University and graduated in 1949.

AFTER GRADUATING, Haney taught at Pennsville, in Morgan County, for two years. Then, he accepted the teaching job at Scioto Township School.

Haney's wife is also a teacher. She is employed at Walnut Township Elementary School. The Haney's reside at 115 Seyert Ave., Circleville.

"I hate to leave Scioto," he said. "The people there are very nice."

"My new job will be a hard one to fill. I will need help from everyone; this is a challenge."

"Saltcreek is a very nice community and I think things will work very well."

Old Man Drought Gets Good Dunking

That soaking downpour late Tuesday not only cheered the entire district but also hurled Old Man Drought for a splashing loss—and just when it looked as though he was going to have his withering May throughout June.

Local weather observers reported the rainfall at nearly a full inch—.80, to be exact. And that gave a total of .95 inch accumulation for the Circleville area so far this month.

Normal rainfall for this district so far in June is charted at .91 inch.

All of which gives local rainfall a narrow lead, after the drought was out in front at the end of May and seemed to be starting off early this month.

Council Gives Mayor Go-Ahead On Latest Plan To Place Siren

Mayor Bob Hedges told city council Tuesday night how steps are under way to determine if the city's new air raid siren can be placed atop the National Guard Armory.

He asked for, and received, council's permission to proceed with the plan.

The lawmakers approved a motion to have the siren's control apparatus placed in the city fire station, which adjoins the armory on E. Franklin St. Approval of the adjutant general will be needed, however, before the siren itself can be placed atop the armory.

Hedges told council he found National Guard spokesmen very cooperative here in preliminary talks on the matter. It was made clear, nevertheless, that final authority for the installation on the armory could not be given locally.

BOB LOVELESS, representing the electrical firm involved, outlined technical details of the current planning, generally credited to the mayor. Original plans, set up by Civil Defense Director Bernard Tait, were to put the siren atop the city hall.

Loveless emphasized that the siren's electrical circuit would not be connected with that used by the fire department, a point of concern for Fire Chief Talmer Wise. Loveless also explained why it would be easier to lead the siren's wiring through the fire station while the House Postoffice and Civil Service Committee goes behind closed doors today to try to agree on the amount of the raise to be given the million-dollar classified civil service employees.

West German Chiefs Study Invitation By Russians

BONN, Germany (AP)—West Germany's political leaders hurriedly consulted today on Russia's surprise proposal that Chancellor Konrad Adenauer visit Moscow to discuss "normalization of relations" between the Kremlin and the Bonn government.

The Soviet note, delivered yesterday to the West German Embassy in Paris, was the major item under discussion at Adenauer's regular meeting with his Cabinet.

The 79-year-old chancellor, a staunch exponent of his country's rearmament as an ally of the West, declined last night to comment on the Soviet invite. He was known to be personally reluctant to make such a trip because of his past policy of uncompromising anti-communism.

But political circles here acknowledged it would be difficult for Adenauer to refuse in the face of pressure for acceptance from political allies and foes alike.

Some Western diplomats in Moscow view the Soviet invitation as a clear indication the Russians do not foresee any early reunification of Germany.

There was speculation over what effect this move, following on the heels of Soviet negotiations with President Tito of Yugoslavia, will have on Poland and Czechoslovakia, which hold territories many Germans demand back.

The invitation to Adenauer caught many Soviet periodicals denouncing the West German chancellor. For years he has been accused here of warlike aims.

In London, the British Foreign Office made it clear Adenauer is barred by agreements with the big Western powers from negotiating with Russia either to reunite Germany or to conclude a peace treaty.

A spokesman said, however, the British government has complete faith in Adenauer's wisdom and is not worried about what would happen if he conferred with Soviet leaders.

In Washington, President Eisenhower said he has the utmost confidence that Adenauer will stand by the Western world in any dealings with Russia.

Salvation Army Workers Given Warm Welcome

Mothers Laud Many Services; Fathers Remember 'Sallies'

Volunteer workers for the Salvation Army, now conducting its annual drive for funds in Pickaway County, described today the enthusiastic welcome they are meeting all over the district.

The drive, scheduled only for one week, may be the last independent campaign conducted here by the Salvation Army. The big organization was one of the first fund-raising agencies to join the new Pickaway County Community Fund.

Telling of the friendly reception given the door-to-door solicitors, Mrs. James Fouch, residential chairman of this year's local drive, said:

"Nearly everyone has a good word for the Salvation Army, and many people have their own favorite story of how the organization helped someone in real need as well."

SHE RECALLED how many mothers cite the many efforts of the Army in behalf of fresh air camps, boys clubs, day nurseries, and many other services. The famed role of the organization in its work for those in the armed services also gets high praise.

"But the mothers don't do all the talking," Mrs. Fouch said.

"Many a father who likes to remember his doughboy days in World War I will tell you how the 'Sallies' meant so much to them, and the one point they stress is that the 'Sallies' acted as if they really wanted to help the soldiers and sailors, just as though they were big brothers or their own sons."

The 500-pound siren was purchased with Civil Defense funds.

The $40,000-unit program still has an obstacle - studded path ahead. The GOP fight for the smaller administration figure will undoubtedly be resumed in the House. And the actual funds will be voted in a separate appropriations bill. In the past, the appropriations committees have frequently recommended funds for far fewer units than are authorized.

The Senate housing bill, passed 60-25, provides also for $4 billion in additional authority for the insurance of private home mortgages by the Federal Housing Administration. The present ceiling of $2,500 on home improvement loans would be raised to $3,000.

Other provisions include:

1. Nearly $1½ billion in FHA insurance authority to launch a military housing program, the units to be owned and operated by the armed services for lease to some 100,000 servicemen.

2. A new public housing program of 10,000 units a year for elderly persons.

3. A $200 million direct-loan program to ease a shortage of housing for college students. Colleges could borrow if private financing was unavailable.

4. A $25 million loan insurance program by the Farmers Home Administration and $100 million in new money for direct loans for farm housing.

5. A $50 million smoke abatement program.

Ohio's Senate Republicans divided in voting on the measure, with Sen. Bender favoring and Sen. Bricker opposing.

Ohio House Set For Vote On Port Authority

Lake Erie Area Due To Benefit From New Seaway Project

COLUMBUS (AP)—The House votes today on a bill to put counties along Lake Erie in a position to reap the expected benefits of the projected St. Lawrence Seaway.

The Senate-approved measure empowers cities and counties or combinations of both to create port authorities. The authorities would have the right to build port facilities designed to greet the expected wave of ocean-going commerce from the seaway.

House approval would send the bill back to the Senate for consideration of nearly a dozen House amendments.

The port authority bill is expected to be a so-called policy measure with both Democrats and Republicans. That means little or no opposition.

Yesterday, the House passed and sent to the Senate a bill to spend the state's $38 million treasury surplus of the last two years on buildings, lakes and other major improvements.

The House made this change in the bill:

IT TRANSFERRED $1 million from the "disaster fund," intended for use in event of enemy attack, to the rehabilitation fund for schools in poorer districts. That doubled the rehabilitation fund.

But it turned down a plea by Rep. Jesse Yoder (D-Montgomery) for a $1 million appropriation for a Dayton receiving hospital.

The House also rejected a request for $50,000 for a southwestern Ohio agriculture experiment station.

The House set aside $17,075,000 in the "additions and betterments" bill for the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction for hospital and prison rehabilitation.

A total of $3,294,900 was assigned to the Department of Natural Resources with $2,819,900 tagged mainly for schools in poor districts and improving state lakes.

State-supported universities were allotted $4,235,000. Ohio State University would get nearly half—$2,100,000. Bowling Green, Kent State, Miami and Ohio University are assigned $490,000 each and Central State College $175,000.

In addition to the $2 million for school rehabilitation, the education department would get $3 million for new school buildings in distressed districts and $1½ million for school buses.

The Senate matched the House performance of Monday by passing nine bills in one hour. The Senate sent to the House a bill to increase salaries of municipal judges an average of $2,000 a year with a new minimum of $13,000.

Union President David J. McDonald continued in personal charge of negotiations as the USW brought its wage requests before officials of Bethlehem Steel Corp. and the Republic Steel Corp.

Bethlehem and Republic are the nation's second and third largest steel makers respectively.

The demands being made of them are the same as those McDonald presented yesterday in the opening of steel wage talks with U.S. Steel Corp., the nation's largest producer. Sessions with others of the "big six," who employ about two-thirds of the 600,000 basic steelworkers, are slated for tomorrow and Friday.

McDonald hasn't announced the USW demands but observers say they amount to approximately 25 cents an hour more than present average earnings of $2.33 an hour. The negotiations are limited, under a reopening clause in a two-year contract signed last June, to wage rates only. That bars demands for a guaranteed annual wage.

He is accused of slashing LeRoy Thompson, also of Ashville Route 2, following an argument in Selsor's house. He is also reported to have pointed shotgun at Thompson, who was trying to flee at the time, deputies said.

Also in city court Wednesday morning, a Huntington, W. Va. motorist was fined for drunk driving. James K. Johnson, 39, arrested by Deputy Sheriff Dwight Radcliff, was fined $100 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and had his driving rights suspended for six months.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: The problem is my brother Al, 26, an only son, the youngest in the family. His birth was greeted with great joy, inasmuch as several girls had predated him; and he was given much affection by everyone as a child.

Strife Did The Damage

Recently your parents, in their continuing strife since Al was born, have fought each other more or less openly for the biggest hand in molding him. I gather that each was outbidding the other for son's allegiance to Mom's or Dad's side. And Al, figuratively pinned down by this crossfire, took what satisfaction he could from his plight, by playing one against the other to pamper him—with the sorry results that your parents now bewail.

Al is demoralized, obviously; his aimless habits signify that. He doesn't know how to take hold of life; also he lacks incentive to get organized. You might make a difference for the better in his experience, by systematically referring his needs to God, in daily intercessory prayer—if you are schooled in effective prayer, and have access to fellowship in prayer.

Evelyn Underhill's book "The Fruits of the Spirit" (Longmans, Green) imparts know-how in praying well. So, too, does The Manual of Prayer, published monthly in the United Prayer Tower, at 1571 Grand Avenue, St. Paul 5, Minnesota.

Trainmen To Ask $2.50 Daily Hike

CHICAGO (AP)—The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen said today it will ask the nation's railroads for a $2.50 daily wage increase for its 215,000 members.

The announcement was made by W. P. Kennedy, president of the brotherhood, following a meeting of the B.R.T.'s wage committee in Chicago.

The demand will be "across-the-board" for all classifications under the B.R.T. jurisdiction, Kennedy said. These range from passenger trainmen currently earning $13.45 per day to footboard yardmasters at $19.07.

Slowpoke Driver Said Road Menace

Slowpoke Driver Said Road Menace

BOSTON (AP)—The general manager of the Automobile Legal Assn. says the slowpoke driver is no less a menace on the highways than the speeder or reckless driver.

Philip C. Thibodeau, said in a statement Tuesday night:

"The driver who travels at a speed much slower than the normal flow of traffic, and who forces cars behind him into taking chances out of pure frustration in order to get by, is the real menace on the roads and should be dealt with as severely as the speeder or reckless driver."

He said he favors a minimum speed in all states.

Rocket Missile Hits Ore Ship

DETROIT (AP)—The ore carrier George R. Fink docked Tuesday with a six-inch hole drilled in its hatch cover by a rocket missile which hit the vessel while it was passing through an Air Force target area. The dummy missile buried itself harmlessly in the ship's iron ore cargo. An Air Force spokesman said the carrier missed warning devices established to keep ships out of the area.

Central Michigan Hit By Twister

BEAVERTON, Mich. (AP)—A small tornado raced across farmlands southeast of this central Michigan community late Tuesday. It leveled a barn, unroofed a garage and granary, twisted a house off its foundations, knocked down power lines and uprooted trees. No one was injured.

Cashier Admits Embezzlement

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police say Charles A. Meier, 30, of Forest Hills, Ky., an assistant cashier for the United Fruit Auction Co., has admitted embezzeling $10,450 from the firm during the last nine years.

Meier is to be arraigned tomorrow on the charge. Police said he replied "nothing in particular" when asked what he did with the money.

It was not until June 14, 1776—nearly a year after the signing of the Declaration of Independence—that the Stars and Stripes was adopted as the official flag of the United States by the Continental Congress.

Taking 'Ouch' Out of Dental Drills

New Method Uses Aluminum Oxide as Cutting Agent

By HENRY LEESNE
Central Press Correspondent

NEW YORK — "Now," said the dentist, picking up his drill, "this won't hurt at all."

The day may soon be here—or, anyway, in the not too distant future—when you can take such a statement without a grain of salt.

Drills with entirely new principles of operation are currently being shown to dental meetings around the country and are being made available to dental schools and researchers for clinical use before being released to the dental profession generally.

One of these involves a new method of drilling teeth that uses aluminum oxide as the cutting agent. The reason the technique is "painless" is this:

The cutting motion is vibratory rather than rotary. The vibration frequency—29,000 per second—is so high, and the vibration—about 0.001 of an inch—is so small the patient scarcely feels it at all.

The actual cutting is done by the abrasive, aluminum oxide, in a liquid carrier, water, which is washed across the vibrating tool. Thus there is virtually no pressure on the tooth.

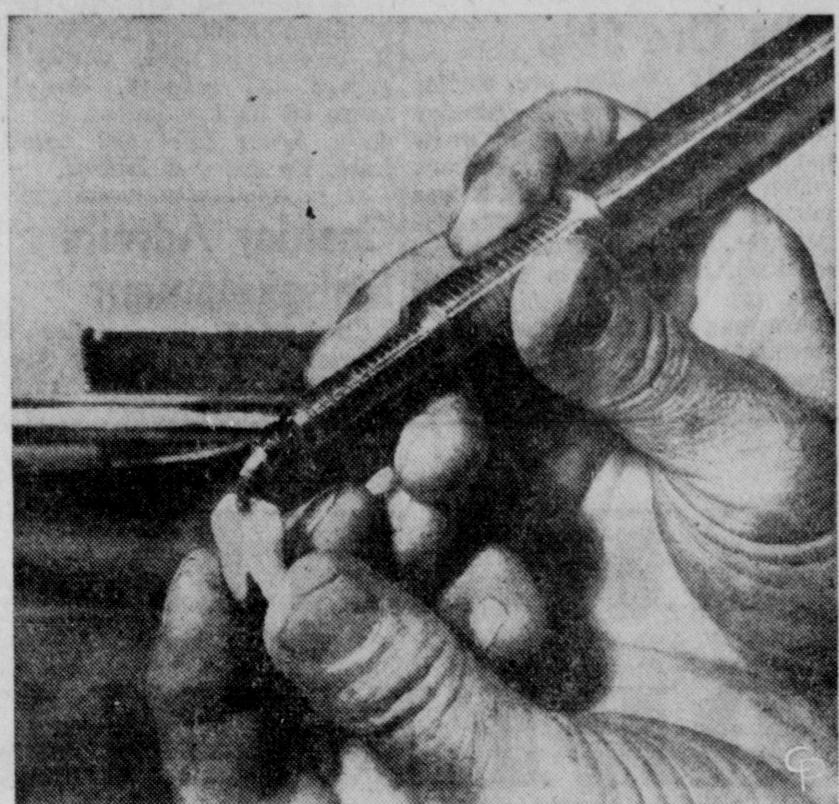

SINCE the frequency of vibration is above the audible range, there is virtually no sound either. You don't even hear the grinding to which you've been so long accustomed.

Another technique being tried out in dental schools and demonstrated before dental societies involves a dental drill with a built-in, drugless pain-preventer.

The drill hooked up to an electrical source, emits a weak direct current as it is applied to the tooth.

It is based on the well-known principle that an electrical current desensitizes tissue and raises tolerance to pain. To complete the electrical circuit, the patient holds the negative pole in his hand.

The so-called "hot" drill or "electro-anesthesia" was invented by Dr. Kensaku Suzuki of the Tokyo Medical and Dental University.

Ultrasonic dental drill for 'painless' operation.

Demonstrators of the drill with the built-in pain killer at United States dental meetings quote Dr. Suzuki as saying 91 per cent of patients do not feel the tooth drill itself like cheese.

THE NEW TOOL was developed at the General Thomas J. Rodman Laboratory of the Army Ordnance Corps Watertown (Mass.) Arsenal. Its center looks for all the world like a piece of chinaware.

This ceramic material, during a recent demonstration when the government scientists took the "wraps" off it, sliced hard steel pretty much like a paring knife on an apple.

Aluminum oxide was selected as the cutting agent because of its excellent cutting qualities, its extraordinary chemical stability and its white color.

Really, the technique is an adaptation of the same principle that has long been in use for precision cutting of metals, hard minerals and other materials.

Aluminum oxide is made from bauxite — aluminum ore — and is one of the toughest and hardest abrasives known. It is the base, in fact, of a new cutting tool re-

WASHINGTON (AP)—Are big labor unions heading for the day when, by their very success in winning benefits for their members, they no longer can get the support of those members in a showdown with a company or industry.

This much can be taken as a truism:

The bigger the stake a worker has in the company which employs him, the bigger his reason for not wanting it to suffer loss or ruin, as it might from a strike.

By a strike is meant such things as a pension, with the size of it based on years of service and earnings; company stock which a worker may own; the medical and hospital bills which a company pays; and so on.

The CIO United Auto Workers has just negotiated an impressive contract with the Ford Motor Co. For a time the company offered to let its employees buy Ford stock. This offer did not become part of the contract. The company may make the offer again.

In time UAW may obtain a contract—covering stock ownership and better pensions, guaranteed wages and pay scales—which may profoundly affect workers' attitude toward the company and make them more conservative.

Suppose then the UAW made demands for some new benefits which, while nice to have, were far less than those already obtained. Would the workers strike to win them, taking a chance on losing everything, just to back the union?

Unions may face that problem some day. An old question arises: Can any union be effective if it can't back up its demands?

Perhaps in time the role of unions may have to take a form not now discerned. For example: What happens when a company lets union members buy its stock. Is their allegiance then divided between company and union? Or do they, through the union, demand a voice in running the company to protect their investment?

In the future workers almost certainly will tend to be tied far more strongly to companies which guarantee them 52 weeks' pay a year, work or no work, and have good pension plans. Such workers will have abundant reason to stay with one company and in one town or city.

With an assured future, they can make their own long-range plans, such as in home buying and educating their children. It seems reasonable to believe that the more deeply workers' lives get tied into the success of a business, the more conservative they will become.

St. Louis Police Break Up Riot

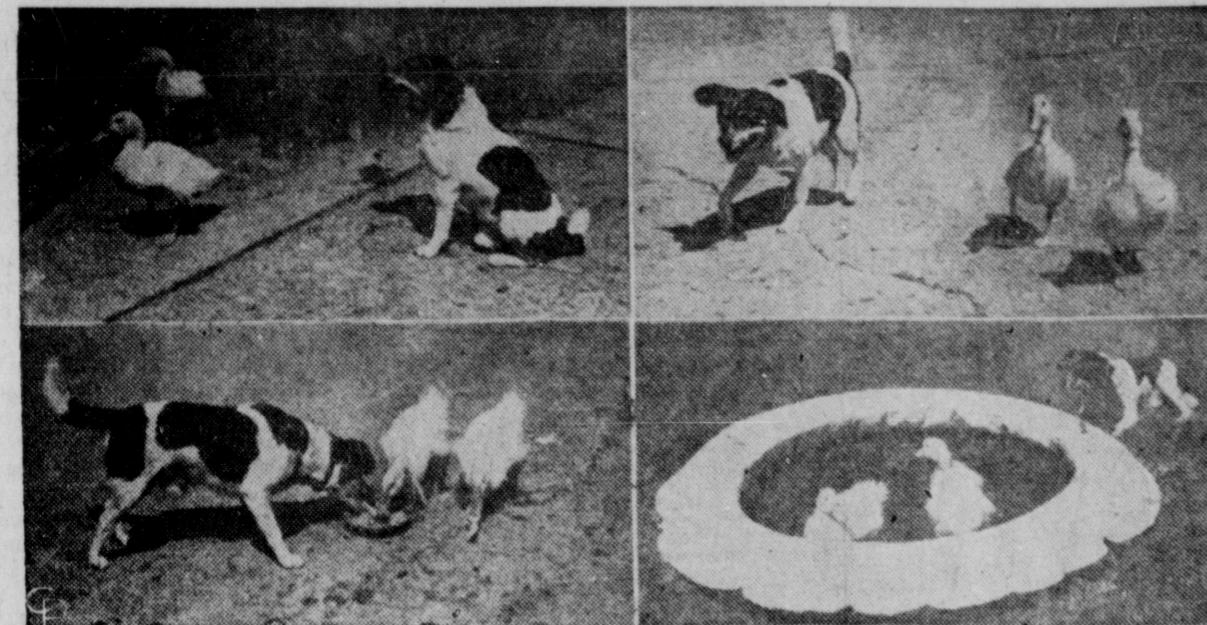

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Police using tear gas broke up a short-lived prisoners' riot at the St. Louis city workhouse late Tuesday night after inmates set fire to mattresses, ripped out plumbing and smashed windows.

More than 100 policemen confined the outbreak to one cell block. Firemen quickly extinguished the blaze started with burning mattresses.

Two of three high police officials racing to the scene from the municipal opera were injured in an automobile accident. No one was hurt in the riot.

Warden Harold E. Baynes, appointed to the post last April, said the riot followed distribution of circulars to prisoners announcing that visits would be restricted to "immediate relatives."

Campground Tax Ruling Is Made

COLUMBUS (AP)—An organization that holds camp meetings every fall in Clark County has won a partial victory in its fight to get tax exemption for its four-acre campground.

The State Board of Tax Appeals decided to exempt from taxation part of the land and buildings owned by the Pentecostal Camp Ground of South Charleston. Last fall's camp meeting attracted 5,000 persons.

The board decided to exempt from taxation the church building on the grounds as well as several other buildings. But it said the parsonage building, and six cabins and a building that were rented, were not exempt.

Navy To Accept 5,000 Reserves

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy said today it will accept up to 5,000 qualified reserve officers for limited tours of duty starting July 1. This number is double the quota during the current fiscal year.

The Bureau of Personnel said the duty tours will be for two, three or four years.

Man's Rainmaking Efforts Still Crude And Uncertain

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the lingo of weather forecasting, the outlook as to whether man can tinker with the weather on a practical, economic scale "is still unsettled."

That's the present summary from officials of the government's Advisory Committee on Weather Control, which for almost a year has been seeking to evaluate commercial projects and laboratory and field experiments in the realm of artificial rainmaking—or "rain increasing" as the committee prefers to call it.

Charles Gardner Jr., executive secretary of the committee, also says:

"We are not pessimistic that there's no chance of definite evidence being established that so-called rainmaking is capable of being applied on a scale of economic importance to the nation in terms of increased hydroelectric production, additional agricultural production, increased grazing land yield, and other industrial and municipal benefits."

"What we are saying at this stage of our investigations is that while we have firm opinions from both responsible operators in the commercial field and from some scientists that economically significant increases in rainfall are possible by artificial means, definite, scientific proof has not yet been established one way or the other."

Gardner says the committee expects to have "reasonable definite and positive answers" for Congress about a year from now.

Gardner says that while experiments in rainmaking started almost nine years ago, "we do not have answers to some very basic and seemingly simple questions about the commercial-type operations."

He says that when the advisory committee first tackled its evaluating job almost a year ago, some experimenters felt that increases in rainfall, through artificial cloud-seeding, could average between 50 and 100 per cent.

But the committee feels today, he said, that if evidence is really obtained that rainmaking is achievable on a practical scale, the average increase will probably be shown to be "not be higher than 30 per cent."

"But increases of the magnitude of 5 per cent or 10 per cent," he said, "can produce consequences of tremendous significance to the economy of the nation."

"We figure that increases of 20 per cent or more may very easily produce benefit-cost ratios running up to 300 to 1 which is, of course, very far in excess of any benefit-cost ratio which can be

Groom-To-Be Held In Kidnap Case

PORLAND, Ore. (AP)—Jesse Moore, 63, who was to be married next Sunday and needed money, has been charged with attempted kidnaping.

Detective Capt. William Browne said Moore, a machinist, had admitted trying to kidnap a 6-year-old grandson of a millionaire Portland industrialist.

Moore was taken into custody shortly after an intruder broke into the home of Mrs. Lillian Weinstein early Monday and tried to grab one of her twin sons to hold for $20,000 ransom.

WINNING VIA RADIO

AMONG THE effective weapons being used against communism are the radio broadcasts by the government's Voice of America, Radio Free Europe which is operated by the Crusade for Freedom, and Radio Liberation, sponsored by the American Committee for the liberation of the people of Russia.

Of the three RFE is by far the most effective. It uses 29 transmitters in Western Germany and Portugal, and its broadcasts are heard in Russia, Poland, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria.

That these efforts are greatly feared by the communists is shown by the fact that Russia spends $25 million a year trying to jam the broadcasts. Russia has no law against listening to broadcasts, but secret police keep a close check on the practice and citizens known to make a practice of it often find themselves on the way to Siberia.

One of the direct results of the project is the announcement that an estimated 11 million people have fled the communist countries. The plan is founded on the recognized theory that the people shall know the truth and the truth shall make them free.

The programs are largely constructive in character, and contain much which is designed to be helpful to listeners. But always, day after day, there is the urge to throw off the yoke of oppression, renounce communism, and join the other free peoples in the world.

CROWDED PLANET

SUPERLENGTH sleeping accommodations are being built by bedding manufacturers, in belated response to a 70 per cent increase in the population of six-footers since World War I.

Other manufacturers will be forced to a similar course if the trend toward additional human height continues. Some automobile dealers complain that tall prospects lose interest after discovering their heads touch the car ceiling.

The experience of bedding manufacturers parallels that of home contractors obliged to stretch garages for bigger cars, and of home owners whose garages have proved too abbreviated for the modern fishtail effects.

The armed services have increased their measurements for the accoutrements of both men and women. It must be admitted that the modern bridegroom no longer can span the bride's waist with his two hands, as accounts (probably fairy tales) had his great-grandfather doing.

REVIVED HOPE

SOUTHWEST'S rains lagged a bit too long to benefit this year's crop greatly, but they have made the wheat farmer's outlook more roseate. At least he has been assured that the element of precipitation still exists and is capable of making itself felt in copious quantities, if infrequently.

Yet where there's been good soaking rain, there's hope. The Kansas Crop Reporting Service has rushed out the word that drought-stricken localities benefitting from hard downpours may still produce a wheat crop.

In many areas old Pluvius overdid it a bit. Bridges washed out in Colorado, entire towns flooded in various states, certainly left no doubt that the rains had come. But piers where bridges once were will be a grim joke several months from now if the drought is on again.

It is difficult to separate the historical from the hysterical in current events.

Fierce Apaches Calm Now

By HAL BOYLE
MESCALERO, N. M.—Tribal kinsmen of Geronimo, leader of the last major Indian uprising in the United States, are considering starting a dude business committee.

There is no doubt that if Chino has anything to do with it, it will have to be on a high level.

He is passionately devoted to raising the lot of his people. A short, powerfully built man of 32, Chino was the first member of the Apache tribe to become an ordained minister. He took a leave of absence from his pulpit post in the Reformed Church in America to direct the tribe's economic affairs.

Two decades ago the Apaches lived much as they did in Ger-onimo's wild heyday.

Today most of the Indians live in neat 4-room cottages built by the tribe with funds borrowed from the government. Many have become ranchers or cowboys. The cattle herd has grown to 10,000. The tribe also receives $150,000 a year from the sale of timber.

"We have come a long way in only 20 years," said Chino proudly.

"But our average cash income is only about $800. We are still in the lower income bracket, in terms of the general American standard of living. Our big problem is unemployment. We have about 150 without jobs."

A Trio of New Drugs Treat as Many Ills

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

IN our monthly review of medicine, we find three new drugs: one gives relief from ulcer pain, another clears up nasal congestion and a third will help the mentally ill.

Patihion Tridihexethide gives prompt relief from spasm pain in persons afflicted with peptic ulcers, according to Dr. Julian M. Rufin, professor of medicine at Duke University.

Blocks Nerve Impulses

The drug works by blocking nerve impulses along sections of the nervous system that control the smooth muscle lining of the stomach and intestine. By relieving the spasms, the drug inhibits the secretion of gastric juices, thus eliminating a primary source of ulcer irritation.

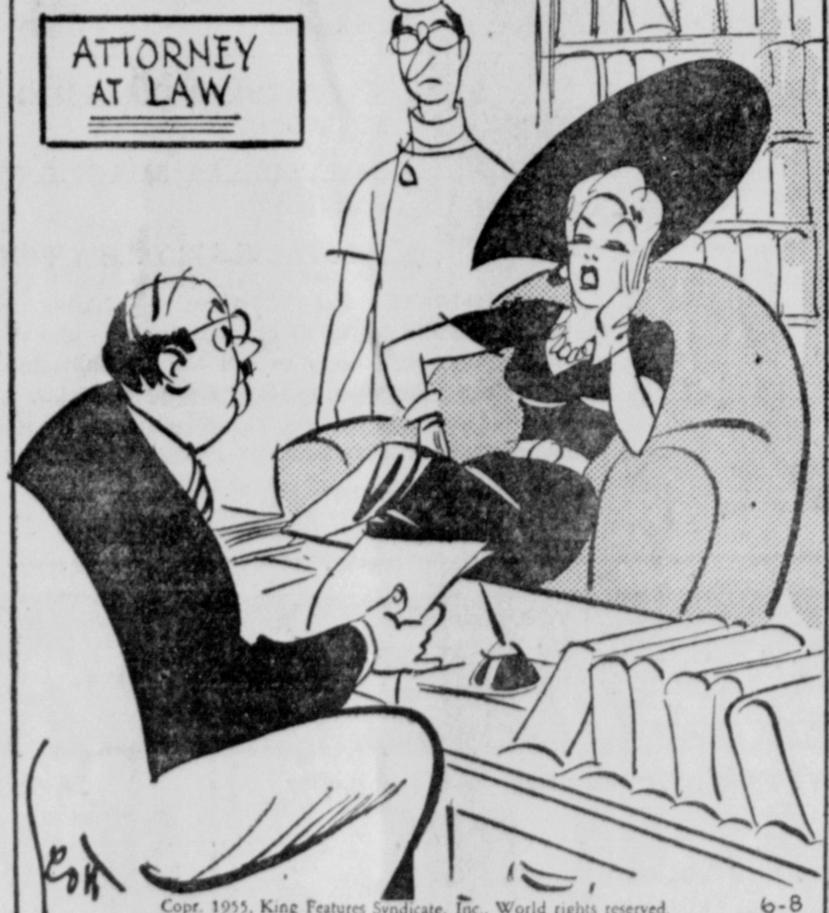

Tyzine, a new nasal spray, is reported to be an effective treatment for congestion accompanying the common cold, allergic rhinitis, vasomotor rhinitis, acute sinusitis and similar complaints.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

J. G. Y.: Is there any test other than a urinalysis which a person may have to determine if he has diabetes? I have all of the symptoms of diabetes and urine tests are negative.

Answer: Since determination of the amount of sugar in the blood is advisable in making a diagnosis of diabetes, you should have blood sugar test made. However, your symptoms, of course, could come from some other disturbance.

THE BOSS OF BROKEN SPUR

By NICK SUMNER

SYNOPSIS
Tom had sent Kerry Ford to town on a spree that had lasted for days, and brought him back to the ranch minus funds and in debt. To face the music with his tough, but generous, boss, Tom McMurphy, who denounces him roundly as a fool, pointing out to him that the earthy little nester girl, Lita Dawson, with whom he, Kerry, had been consorting, is a widow. To make things worse, Tom finds when he arrives that Lita has a new suitor, a lacy-eyed stranger who will escort her to the community's week-end dance.

CHAPTER FOUR

THE CONVERSATION among the three drifted into small talk. Cameron showed no intention of leaving. It became increasingly clear to Kerry that he wasn't going to get to see Christie alone, and he felt no desire for any more of the Double Diamond man's company.

He rose. "Well, just dropped in as I was passing. I'd better be getting along." If he'd had any hopes that Christie would urge him to stay, they came to nothing.

Cameron rose and held out his hand, and good manners dragged out of Kerry, "Glad to've made your acquaintance, Cameron. Hope we'll meet again sometime."

"I expect we will," strolled long. You'll be at the dance in Sundown Saturday night, won't you? Christie promised to go with me and help me meet some more of my neighbors."

"Is that another case of making your own luck?"

As he rode away, Kerry was not with misery and resentment. Somehow, this hit him harder than anything. Never in the last three years had Christie attended a dance with anyone but him. He told himself she was trying to show him he wasn't the only fish in the ocean—but, he knew that!

Well, if she thought he was going to go to the dance alone, and moon after her like a motherless calf, she had another guess coming!

If she was out to show her

"Glad to see me, sugar?" he smiled down at her.

"Course I am. Though I reckon I hadn't oughta tell you so, the way you been neglectin' me lately, I don't think you like me any more." She turned her eyes up to him, brown and liquid, with the special, shining way she had of looking at a man. Lita was all woman, Kerry thought; she took a man the way she found him, not always wanting to make him over, like—some people. Then, as her lips parted wide in invitation, he abruptly stopped thinking about anyone else.

"Well," he raised his lips from hers, "still think I don't like you?"

"I reckon I do, honey lamb. And I reckon I like you—I just can't help it. You sure are a sweet boy, Kerry."

"Sweet yourself." Kerry pressed his face against the loose softness of her brown hair.

"No wonder all the girls are after you. But you like me better'n any other girl?"

If a memory of steel-blue eyes and hair like a silver-gilt crown rose to trouble Kerry's contentment, he shut it out of his mind.

Alumni Of Walnut Township Host 215 At Annual Banquet

Wayne Brown Is Elected President

Dinner was served to 215 alumni and guests at the 14th annual Alumni Banquet held in the Walnut Township school building.

The gymnasium was decorated in blue and white, with floral arrangements centering the tables. Wilbur Allen served as toastmaster for the dinner, while Everett Beers offered the invocation.

The program opened with group singing, conducted by Mrs. Ralph Dunkle. Sara Jane Hedges accompanied the group on the piano.

Superintendent Howard Hosler introduced the graduating class of 1955, which was welcomed by Wayne Brown. The response was made by class president, Charles Hines. The honor class of 1940 was introduced and Mrs. Ralph McCain made the response.

Mary Ann Noecker entertained with two vocal numbers. She was accompanied by Bill Drum, who later offered a piano solo. Group singing concluded the program.

Wilbur Allen conducted a short business session. The nominating committee, composed of John Brinker, Mrs. Rennie Sowers and John Hedges, presented a slate of officers for the coming year, who were elected as follows:

Wayne Brown, president; Jay Hay, vice president; Mrs. Max Cormany, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Robert Bausum, assistant secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Walden Sherman, Madison advisor, and Mrs. Walter Melvin, reporter.

Round and square dancing was enjoyed by the group following the meeting. The affair was planned and conducted by the retiring officers and the committees of the association, who are: Wilbur Allen, president; Wayne Brown, vice president; Mrs. Charles Bartholomew, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Cormany, assistant secretary-treasurer, and Harold Fisher, Madison advisor.

Decorations for the event were prepared by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Riegel, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Scorthorn, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dogson and Mr. and Mrs. Gregg Riegel.

Garden Club Program Topic Is Wild Flowers

The members of the Mt. Pleasant Garden Club of Kingston heard an address on wild flowers during a meeting held in the home of Mrs. Wallace Evans.

Mrs. Fred Mavis, program chairman for the session, introduced the guest speaker, Floyd Bartley of Circleville Route 4, whose garden boasts of many varieties of wild flowers.

Mrs. Turney Pontius, president, conducted a business session. A total of 19 Kingston club members answered roll call by naming their favorite rose.

The main topic of business was a discussion of a Ross County Flower Show which is to be held during the Ross County Fair. The Kingston and Liberty Garden clubs are to be co-chairmen of the flower exhibit.

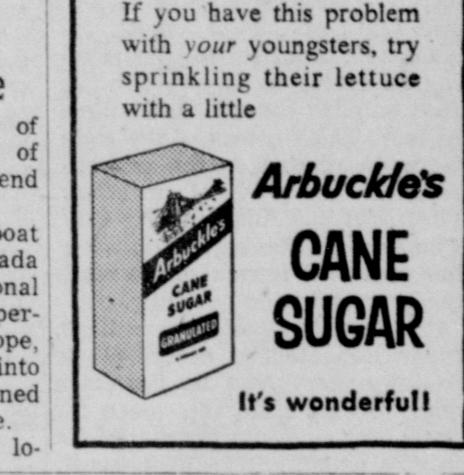

A special meeting has been scheduled for 2 p. m. June 16 at the Ross County Fairgrounds, to make plans for the event.

Mrs. Long, Mrs. Kelson Bower and Mrs. Ralph Metzger were appointed by Mrs. Pontius as a nominating committee to prepare a slate of officers for election.

The club members voted to cancel a July session of the club. The group is to hold a tour of the gardens of the Junior club on Aug. 13. A sack lunch is to be enjoyed during the tour.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Dearth, Mrs. J. L. Maxwell and Mrs. Leiland Newhouse.

Gabby Recess Drags Out Session As Council Meets

City council nearly enjoyed an unusually short meeting Tuesday night, only to run into an hour-long and gabby recess in which the lawmakers let their discussions run over a wide assortment of problems — ranging from sewer plans to more engineering help on city projects. No formal action is taken in the recess huddles.

In the session's first hour and one-half, the lawmakers had moved in businesslike fashion through eight proposals, old and new. No major debates developed:

"I don't know what it's for."

THE NEXT ordinance, which passed after brief discussion, authorized an increase in pay for the caretaker at the city dump. City Service Director Dewey Speakman explained the man now in charge of the dump receives only $36 a month. And it was also pointed out that there is little to be offered in the way of salvage work which could figure in the caretaker's pay.

The ordinance raised the man's pay to $60 a month, effective July 1. Speakman said: "He's a good worker — the man I have out there now — and I'm afraid he'll quit unless he gets First Ave. back in 1895."

SEVERAL of his colleagues pretended to console him, and one reminded him:

"Don't let it too hard, George. There is still some of it left."

The ordinance was passed by unanimous vote. It has been explained that portions of the avenues are needed for school building and playground room in the area south of Corwin School.

Council then held to first reading an ordinance to establish the first building code in Circleville's history. Thick copies of the code were distributed to the councilmen at the previous meeting. Chairman Bob Adkins of the City Planning and Zoning Commission has urged the lawmakers to read the proposed code carefully.

At this stage of proceedings, Mayor Bob Hedges described to the lawmakers how he has been trying to find a suitable place for a new air raid siren purchased for the city with Civil Defense funds.

NEW YORK (AP) — Many smaller communities with little prospect of TV stations of their own may yet receive good program service by one of two alternatives—community antennas or satellite transmitters.

Community antennas already are in wide use in fringe areas, with more than 300 in operation serving about a quarter of a million homes. Several satellite and booster transmitters are in experimental operation and the Federal Communications Commission is considering authorizing their use on a commercial basis where regular TV stations are impractical.

Reminder Issued On Wages, Hours

With schools closed for the summer, employers, parents and teenagers in Pickaway County are advised to get acquainted with the age limits on vacation jobs for young people. The restrictions are set by the Fair Labor Standards Act—the federal wage-a-hour law.

William S. Singley, regional director of the U. S. Labor Department's Wage and Hour Division, explained that certain rules apply to the employment of young workers.

He pointed out that minors must be at least 16 years of age to work in general occupations and at least 18 for employment in the 12 hazardous occupations, such as motor vehicle driver or helper, elevator operator, and as operators of power-driven metal forming, paper cutting, and bakery machines.

The child labor provisions of the law also permit the employment of 14 and 15-year-olds in non-manufacturing jobs, such as in office, clerical, or sales work, but their employment is limited to 8 hours a day and 40 hours a week, when schools are closed, and 3 hours a day or 18 hours in a week when schools are in session. Moreover, these youngsters may not work before 7 a. m., or after 7 p. m. During summer vacations, children of any age may work on farm jobs.

Crites, who has recently been a critic of the board's public relations policy, brought chuckles from the lawmakers when he said in mock sorrow:

"I hate to see them (the avenues) closed. My mother named First Ave. back in 1895."

SEVERAL of his colleagues pretended to console him, and one reminded him:

"Don't let it too hard, George. There is still some of it left."

The ordinance was passed by unanimous vote. It has been explained that portions of the avenues are needed for school building and playground room in the area south of Corwin School.

Gimmicks Aid Communities Receive Television Shows

After a long recess, council was again reminded that problems still remain in the plan to widen a stretch of S. Pickaway St. near the corporation limits. Council President Ben Gordon and Councilman John Robinson both expressed confidence that "something can be done" in that connection soon.

ROBINSON ALSO urged a complete review of the many efforts to extend city water lines to Lower's Lane. City officials in the past have insisted that efforts to do this have been blocked by the refusal of property owners to give easements.

As adjournment neared, Councilman Boyd Horn asked that "something be done" about "wild driving" on Pickaway and Washington streets.

Council President Gordon told Horn:

"I think Miller (City Safety Director Miller Fissell) can take care of that for you. Those places can be patrolled if necessary."

As the meeting came to an end, Horn added that the city should force property owners to cut weeds and tangled underbrush, especially in some of the alleys.

PIGEONS ARE HOLDING OWN AS MESSENGERS IN WAR

Pvt. Louis Van Loan (left) and Pfc. Malcolm Holding fit a carrier pigeon with a message. The bird was one of 33 homing pigeons which won their "spurs" in flights high in the frigid Colorado Rockies during Exercise Hail Storm.

By FRANKLIN JOHNSON
Central Press Correspondent

CAMP HALE, Colo.—In this age of radio, radar, TV and all manner of electronic communication, the hard-flying carrier pigeon with his uncanny sense of direction still maintains an important place in military operations.

That was one of the end-product determinations in Exercise Hail Storm staged here in the two-mile-high always cold passes of the Colorado Rockies with men, machines, mules, messenger dogs and carrier pigeons battling 30-below-zero temperatures, blizzards, and snows three to ten feet deep.

Among the stars of the maneuvers were 33 pigeons from the famed Fort Monmouth, N. J. Army pigeon center. They "iced up" a bit around their beaks, and the tough going slowed them down and cut their normal range, but their diminished efficiency in the extreme cold was relatively less than that suffered by almost any other living creature or machine.

When the rugged terrain hamstrung cable-laying operations and radio suffered from its great drawbacks of being intercepted, jammed, or "telegraphed" to the opposition where its transmitters were located, the pigeons performed in a fashion worthy of their proud forebears dating all the way back to King Solomon.

EIGHT HUNDRED select birds make up the Fort Monmouth winged contingent now, and among them on the retired list are some of the most celebrated homing pigeons in history, including the fabulous GI Joe.

GI Joe was decorated for his exploit of flying 20 miles in 20 minutes carrying a message that cancelled a scheduled saturation bombing of Colvi Vecchia, Italy, that would have wiped out 1,000 British troops who unexpectedly had stormed the town marked earlier for extinction by their own bombers.

Among the "elder statesmen" at Fort Monmouth is the almost equally famed Yank, who flew 90 miles in 100 minutes in Tunisia to carry the first news of the capture of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's Tenth and Fifteenth German Panzer divisions, beating all other communications by two hours.

IT WAS at Fort Monmouth that the famous Methuselah of all pigeons, Kaiser, who was captured from the Germans in World War I, reached the unprecedented age of 32. The life span of the average bird is 7 to 10 years, with his best flying years being from one to three years old, after which the best pigeons are used as breeders.

The most significant discovery pointing to the continued and perhaps increased importance of pigeons in war is that rays emitted from atomic bomb explosions apparently do not affect them unless they are severe enough to cripple them or to extinguish life itself.

Roundtown Retrospect

By Mac Noggle

Back in January we had something about the old-time remedies for aches, pains and epizootics, but you know we can forget one thing—that was the many ways to get rid of warts.

I'll bet you can remember many of these—but as you recall them, you may wonder how people could have been so foolish as to expect a cure from such screwball ideas. Strangely though, an eminent Edical man, who had made a study of most of these "cures", stated that a great percent of them were effective and, he goes on to say, that the cause and cure of warts originates in the mind and that most any cure can do the work, if we believe it will.

In this, we leave to your own opinion—no comment from this department.

Maybe you have never been bothered, but if you have, no doubt you've tried out at least one of these odd home remedies to make a wart go away. Now there were those who would swear that if you would rub a potato peeling on a wart for several successive nights, it would go away, while others used the red juice from a beet leaf, or maybe it was the milk from the milkweed plant. Also we have heard that the milk from the stem of a freshly-picked fig leaf will work wonders.

IF YOU WANT to try this out, we'll have plenty of these growing in our garden before long. Now some of the cures were a little more complicated in their application. One was to cut a raw potato into several thin slices and touch each wart with a separate slice and then to be sure and hide each in a different place.

Another sure cure was to crush some string-bean leaves, rub this on the wart and, when no one was looking, to hide the mess under an old brick. We heard of another one, where the sufferer tried everything, such as burning with acid, or tying a silk string around the offender to choke it or doping it with some sort of a homemade salve—but had no luck until he rubbed it with raw meat and then buried the piece of meat, and when this rotted, the wart disappeared.

Some people used to bathe theirs with rain-water which was collected in the hollow stump of a white oak tree while others relied on their secret operation of spitting on theirs the first thing after they woke up in the morning. In some neighborhoods, the predominating method of cure was to steal a greasy dishcloth and bury it somewhere, and when it disintegrated, your troubles were over.

It is also said that if you would take a kernel of corn and put a drop of blood on this from one of your tumors, and then

Mentioned in the Biblical Book of Job, homing pigeons have a real tradition to build upon. The Roman historian Pliny tells of them carrying messages during the 42 B.C. siege of Modena. In 1870 they carried the first messages on newly-invented microfilm from besieged Paris.

Although the "Star Spangled Banner" won popular acceptance as our National Anthem soon after it was written by Francis Scott Key during the British bombardment of Fort McHenry, September 13-14, 1814, more than a century passed before it was officially accepted. The "Star Spangled Banner" was designated the national anthem by an Act of Congress on March 3, 1931.

feed this grain of corn to a black chicken, it was a sure cure.

Another of the old-time remedies, when you had a lot of them, was to count how many you had to get rid of, and to put this number of knots in a string and to tie this string to a down-spout on the house so that the rain-water could hit it, causing the knots to rot and, as they did, so one by one your warts would disappear.

Here's another one, where you had to do some counting—cut as many notches in a stick as you have of the unsightly growths, then bury this stick and in a very short time results would be had. Now here's one that required finesse—if you will let a grasshopper devour the thing, it won't come back—the wart, we mean. But the problem is—to get a hopper which isn't scared and is very hungry.

HERE'S ONE we have saved for the last—thinking that maybe someone might want to try it out—but, remember you must have some warts to make it work. The best way we know of to get these so we were told when we were kids—is to monkey around with a hoppin' toad in the garden.

Then, to remove them painlessly, it is said that if a person is opposite in the pigmentation of the skin, they can remove each other's warts—that is, a brunet can get rid of a blonde's warts by caressing them, and a blonde, likewise those of the brunet—but remember—this must be done for a period of 5 minutes each day, until there is a cure.

Strike Idleness In Ohio Up In April

COLUMBUS (AP)—April strike idleness in Ohio amounted to about a third more than in April of last year, the Ohio Department of Industrial Relations reports.

Director Margaret A. Mahoney said idleness reached 150,000 man-days in April this year, as a result of 45 strikes which idled some 23,000 workers. Contract terminations bring a rash of work stoppages each April, the director noted.

Panhandle Gas Charge Too High

WASHINGTON (AP)—Edward B. Marsh, Federal Power Commission examiner, has ruled Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co. has excessively charged 50 wholesale customers and must refund $36,380.665. The FPC announced the finding yesterday.

FPC said customers were in Ohio, Kansas, Indiana, Missouri, Illinois and Michigan. The decision is subject to review.

Man, 33, Admits Dozen Burglaries

TROY (AP)—County authorities say John Weaver, 33, of West Milton, has confessed 12 burglaries in Montgomery and Preble counties, and implicated three others.

Miami County Sheriff Richard Seifried said Weaver is being held in county jail after indictment on a breaking and entering charge. The three he implicated, Nicholas and Adolph Cole of West Alexandria and Charles Taylor of Dayton, were arrested Monday in Dayton.

nounced in the gunshot slaying last Saturday of Walter Johnson, 26, of Columbus.

Dr. Robert A. Evans, coroner, made the ruling yesterday after an inquest. Johnson was shot while being chased by sheriff's Deputies Earl Smith and James Peterson, who sought to question him on a reported assault.

Haymes To Seek U.S. Citizenship

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Singer Dick Haymes, recent victor in a suit to escape deportation, says he plans to file for U. S. citizenship today in Reno, Nev. Haymes and his wife Rita Hayworth maintain legal residence at Lake Tahoe, Nev. Haymes was born in Argentina.

Immigration officials have contended that he had made himself ineligible for citizenship by claiming neutral alien status in gaining World War II draft deferment.

Arcaro Seeking Win At Belmont

NEW YORK (AP)—Eddie Arcaro, who has ridden more Kentucky Derby and Preakness winners than any other jockey, will take dead aim on his sixth Belmont stakes Saturday with Nashua.

The 39-year-old Arcaro needs another victory to tie Jimmy McLaughlin, who won six Belmonts between 1882 and 1888.

Arcaro is tied with Earl Sande among modern day riders of Belmont winners, and the Belair Stud Nashua is expected to be a heavy odds-on favorite in the 87th running of the great 3-year-old classic.

Labor-Management Harmony Stressed

CLEVELAND (AP)—Labor and management must work in harmony if America is to win the cold war, Brig. Gen. David Saroff told the convention of the American Federation of Musicians.

Saroff, chairman of the board of the Radio Corporation of America and the National Broadcasting Co., told the musicians that labor-management unity has ceased to be a luxury and has become an irreducible necessity.

Madison Garden Chiefs Quitting

NEW YORK (AP)—Chairman Bernard F. Gimbel and five other members of the board of directors of Madison Square Garden have offered their resignations because they are "captives" of boxing promoter Jim Norris, the New York Herald Tribune said today.

The Herald Tribune identified the other board members who tendered their resignations as Walter P. Chrysler Jr., Sydney J. Weinberg, William M. Greve, James Noyes and Stanton Griffis.

The Herald Tribune said the six members were displeased by the admission from Norris that he knew Frankie Carbo, an underworld figure who is reputed to have a major say in the doings of the fight business. Norris made the admission during hearings conducted by the New York State Athletic Commission.

A PROUD NEW

PLYMOUTH OWNER!

FOUR TIMES EVERY MINUTE, on the average, another proud new owner drives home in his big, beautiful new Plymouth! Every day, thousands of car buyers "look at all 3" and discover that Plymouth gives most value per dollar! We'd like you to see this exciting new beauty today!

AND HERE'S WHY:

More comfort in the biggest, roomiest car of the low-price 3!

The advanced styling of Plymouth's all-new Forward Look!

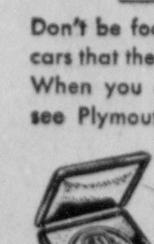

Top economy from Plymouth's 6-cylinder PowerFlow 117 engine!

The greatest visibility with the new swept-back windshield!

The only truly big car ride in the lowest-price field!

Why pay up to $500 more for a car smaller than Plymouth?

Don't be fooled by the claims of medium-price cars that they cost almost the same as Plymouth. When you compare, model for model, you'll see Plymouth sells for much, much less!

Plymouth named "America's Most Beautiful Car" by famous professional artists, the Society of Illustrators well until the seventh.

After Podbielan was relieved, the Reds used three more pitchers.

Podbielan, a former Brooklyn right-hander, gave up eight of the Dodgers' nine hits and was responsible for all Brooklyn's runs.

Podres, recording his sixth victory, against three defeats, also joined the Dodger attack by hitting a double and single and adding a sacrifice.

Despite yesterday's defeat, the Reds stopped the first place Dodgers in one respect. They broke a Brooklyn streak of at least one home run in 12 consecutive games.

The shutout marked the third time this season Cincinnati has been whitewashed. The Reds did it once, and so did the Cards.

The best the Red hitters could do yesterday was gather five hits, no more than one in any single
